HONEY AND HEART DISEASE:

It may come as just as much of a surprise to our readers as it did to us to learn that honey has a nutritional value which readily adapts itself to the diets of people suffering from heart disease. Nevertheless, such is the contention of the Fruit Branch, Outario Dept. of Agriculture, which department is stressing the "remarkable nutritional value and its use instead of sugar, especially in the case of persons suffering from heart ailments."

from heart ailments."

In a recently published booklet of honey recipes, with full approval of the American Medical Association on Foods and Nutrition, there this reference to

Honey is a natural unrefined nutritionally value-

"Honey is a natural unrefined nutritionally value-able food. It is unique in that it is the only unman-factured sweet available in commercial quantities." "Seventy-the per cent of its composition is sugars, which give honey an energy-producing value second to few foods. Commonly used sugars, cane and beet, must be broken down into simpler sugars by dispe-tive pinces before they are assimilated into the blood-stream and issues. These resulting simple sugars decruses and levilone make up almost the entire sugardextrose and levulose make up almost use entire suga-content of honey. This makes it reasonable to sup-pose that little digestion is necessary and absorption takes place quickly and puts no tax on the digestive system."

Another authority is Dr. Arnold Lorand of Carlsbad, Czechoslovakia. Dr. Lorand mentions honey in a book: "Life shortening habits," when says that honey is particularly good for those with a weak heart and resultant weak digestion.

A weak heart is most frequent in severe diabetes, Dr. Lorand writes. "As the best food for the heart I recommend honey. Honey is easily digested and assimilated; it is the best sweet food as it does not similated; it is the best sweet tood as it does not cause flatulance and can even prevent it by promoting activity of the bowels.

"I recommend patients with weak hearts, to take before going to bed, a glass of water with honey and harmon in eith."

THE PRESS A PROTECTOR, TOO
County Judge T. Herbert Barton, who is a member of the Toronto Board of Police Commissioness, ber of the Toronto Board of Police Commissioness, nor of the Information had of Tolkie Commissions, not appear to hold the press in due respect. During the Police Commission's investigation of allegations that a police officer had conducted a series of inspections in Chinatown without warrant or apparent authority, Judge Barton spoke of the whole matter as a tempest in a teapot.

Nothing should have appeared in the news-papers (he said). It would have been all right then.

The fact that estimable Chinese citizers felt it.

The fact that estimable Chinese citizers felt it.

The fact that conduct of the police would be compared to profess the conduct of the police would be compared to the compared to t is a member, before proper discipline and procedure

There is another side to the matter, which Judge. Barton also overlooks. And that is that his own work as a judge would be seriously handicapped without the press to inform the public of the laws and their enforcement. Without a free press liberty is in danger. And without the easy access to the public mind which the press affords, government in its modern sense could not be carried on. Law the abound, neither must it be disregard. In the achievement of both purposes, the press is indispensible ment of both purposes, the press is indispensible.

SOME LITTLE KNOWN FACTS ABOUT WOLVES

FACTS ABOUT WOLVES

Table known facts about the life and habits of the wolf are coming to light in the face of a province which dispute as to the value or otherwise of lingua.
Officials of the Department of Lands and Foresa are receiving much information from trappers, prospectors and hunters, and are carefully examining it in neffort to find out whisher it is advisable on the one extreme to make an all-out effort to climinate the wolf, on the other harmonic trappers, for adopt an indetween course, such as in fact to being followed Down, of thinning out wolf populations were they may become too abundant for the welfare of the remaining animals."

'It is generally understood the wolf does have some uses - despite reports to the contrary. Although admittedly a killer, he, perhaps unintentionally, provides food for other animals. Observations carried or vides food for other animals. Observations carried on a Agonquin Park have shown that, on at least one occasion, a deer killed by a wolf had served as a food hourse for every know fur bearer in the Park. Even the birds shared in the meal which had been provided, non official reported finding a faber, a very search animal, living inside another deer carcass. The fiber had found as the warm whiter home, with food there had found as the warm whiter home, with food that his nose, and how surm whiter hine, with food the warm whiter hine, with food the warm whiter had been the same state of the same state

The means generally used to kill woives in North-"The means generally used to kill wolves in North-ern Ontario are poison, narce and shooting. Poison is frowned upon by many who argue that it is liable to be picked up by other fur bearers and dogs. Even the snare is sometimes the cause of death for other

"Dan McDonald, Sault Ste Marie, who lived in the district of Algoma before wolves were first found there in 1906, injate in correspondence with the Depart ment, that the animal is a coward; that there is no authentic record of any human being attacked by wolf, but that the animal is also an extremely smart

"Mr. McDonald declared he had hunted for sixty of his seventy years, and says many "scare" stories originated in a picture "in our old Third Reader" of wolve chasing a team and sleigh loaded with a man and his family, the "man holding a child as though to give it scene depicted was in Russia and "no such stories should be published in our school books." he conten-ded. He is one of the few men, he said, who has acded. He is one of the few men, he said, who has ac-tually seen wolves mating. He agrees with many bunters that the wolf kills more than he requires, but says wolves will return to a deer kill."

The aforegoing data released by the Department of Lands and Forests, Toronto, makes very interesting wolves and dogs, municipalities in this region have been put to heavy expense of late and sheep raisers have been greatly discouraged-in fact the wool industry locally has been scriously menaced by their activities and no matter what merits the wolf is found to be possessed of it is not likely to enhance his life span. Heavy bounties and vigilance on the part of sheep raisers will no doubt continue to be the order of the day in Victoria and Haliburton for a while yet and hunters are going to be generally difficult to con-vince that the wolf has many characteristics which argue for his longevity.

IT WILL PROBABLY DO WHAT IT WAS INTENDED TO DO
There has been much talk locally about the article in the current issue of a Canadian periodical dealing with the much-publiched McAllister case. Many Lindary people contend that the story, or post more Reference is made, for example, to the fact that the trial was on the tongues of all shop clerks and it. the trial was on the longues or an anop-cerss and was stated as fact that "salesgirls took money, made change, then struck up a conversation with "What do you think of the shooting?" It may be that salesgirls had their favorite customers with whom to discuss the trial, but of several people contacted since this actory was printed, none recall having been approached on the subject while shopping during the progress of

In another place the writer seems to be under the impression that Lindsay's downtown business sec-tion was deserted during the last phase of the trial and that desperate efforts were made to attract cus-tomers away from the trial in order to garner a few shekels to keep the wolf from the door. Here, again, natives of the town find their memories at variance with the writer's. Actually, they say, shops appeared to be about as busy as average on the last day of the

A particularly original and clever feature of the "coming out" party for the new "felegram" was its method of presentation which was highly personalized and gave one the impression of being a spectator to a society debug of some importance . . The annual banquet of the Lindsay Hydro Com-mission Thursday was the source of good news for mission intrinsical was the solution of the citizens of Lindsay.

Chairman A. T. Claxton's address contained heart-warming assurance that the press was welcome and the people would receive the fullest information through it concerning the operation of the local power

There was openness and clarity in the whole address that indicates an attitude for the Commission to keep the best interests of Lindsay in view.

that special attention has been given to the pos-sibilities of auxiliary power is evident and the useful information has been obtained that if the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission installs a plant in ndsay at their expense the power has to be turned into the general system. This in itself is a reasonable stipulation under the circumstances. Lindsay would stiphistion under the circumstances. Lindsay would have the great protection of auxiliary power to provide against a breakdown due to tornadose or other causes, and at no expense. The lown could operate the equipment with its own staff for which a low reasonable charge could be made as a co-operative gesture in appreciation of heving the side of the country of the

The greatest problem Hydro has had all over On-tario was to get the householders to realize that they were owners and co-operators and that in saving current they were helping their own business. This can be partly overcome by encouraging various achool es of advanced students in town to visit the auxiliary plant where power is actually being generated. An explanation of power production and Lindsay's part in the provincial network would be indelibly impressed on the minds of our coming citizens and enthusiasm would spread to the home.

This is only an extension of the idea that Chairman A. T. Claxton advocated when Mayor of Lindsay and recently was adopted by Ontario Hydro Chairman Saunders in a variation when children's organizations were asked to co-operate to save power. (N.B. Mr. Claxion, as Mayor of Lindsay once advocated students attending Council meetings, etc., to familiarize themselves with, and prepare themselves for, municipal

The Post has steadily pressed for this move and now that it has become a Hydro policy Lindsay should be among the first on the list of installations.

EASIER, MORE EFFECTIVE SEEDING

EASIER, MORE EFFECTIVE SECURIO With spring just a few weeks away and gardeners already leafing through the latest seed catalogues, there's heartening news for those who love to work with the soil. It's heartening news because not only will it lighten the task of the farmer or backyard gardener but it will assure him of better results from the efforts he expends.

"Carrots that require no thinning, and corn that can be sown two weeks early without being harmed by cold weather, are two of the innovations in farm-ing and backyard gardening that have been made possible by a new way of preparing seeds" states an article in Wall Street Journal.

PRINCESS MARGARET AT CHURCH

PLANTICLESS MARICARET AT CHURCH
Last Sinday Princess Margaret, who was staying at the country home of some friends, attended a village church in Bissex. Crowds flocked to stare and gossip, because the family with whom the Princess attended the service have a "wasper reporters, gabling contorned romanule guff, said that everyone the Billte behaves again most of the time bending." gabbing contorted romantic guff, and that everyone in the little church spent most of the time looking at the Princess and her party. Ferhaps they did. If so, we can but hope that those who came to stare remained to pray. What kind of Christian charity are people showing the Princess If she cannot even attend church without being order as if she were on a Holly-wood screen rather than at prayer even on a Holly-wood screen rather than at prayer even on a Holly-wood screen rather than at prayer even on a Holly-wood screen rather than at prayer even on the Holly start of the prayer even on the Holly screen at the prayer even of the prayer even on the Holly screen at the prayer even of the Holly screen at the prayer even of the Holly screen at the Holly screen

The reporters said that the "London gossips" (including themselves, of course) "are wagering even money that Captain Tom would be sitting next to money that Captain Tom would be sitting next to Princess Margaret next Monday night at the Royal Opera House." Princess Elizabeth, the Duke of Edin-burgh and Princess Margaret did attend Covent Gar-dens last Monday. The Fourth seat was occupied by another gentleman, not hy Captain Tom. Confound these gossilpy reporters, and may Princess Margaret continue to Trantrate their karavish tricks.

TWISTED INDIVIDUALISM

TWISTED INDIVIDUALISM
Most of us know, or have met, individuals who are convinced that our system is outdated and ripe to be replaced by a state-controlled and ordered economy. Some of these are undoubtedly sincere, many omy. Some of these are undoubtedly sincere, many of them have given up a great deal for their beliefa and are willing to give up more: others have a private axe to grind and think they see a way of deriving advantage for themselves from a change; attll others are people who are chronically "agin" the government," frustrated, slightly irrational people who would be robel against the existing order in any age and under any system.

Many and varied are; the motivations of the Reds, the Prisk, and the party-liners but, it seems to us, the there is no characteristic which they all bave in that there is one characteristic which they all have in that there is one characterisale which they all bave in common, and It is a peculiar characteristic to find among disciples of collectivism. The sincere, the copical, the chronically rebelious are all one when it comes to rugged individualism.

I doesn't matter to them if they are in the emitted of the control of the co resist any and every monon of control and rejunction of their own lives, regardless of the authority seeking to impose it. And what is more, they are great upholders of their privilege to act in this way. In short, they are individualists and require the democratic state in which to express themselves. Certainly, their individualism would find little expression in a collectivist state, where the citizen is not certainty, their individualism would find these expects ston in a collectivist state, where the citizen is not only expected to do what he is told, but is cast into the outer darkness if he dares to complain.

If their individualism stopped here, they would make good and active citizens of a democratic state but the trouble is that they extend their rights to express it to include what they feel is a God-given right to ignore the laws of the country. They use it to undermine the very structure which provides them with the privilege of self-expression.

This point of view is difficult to understand. Per-haps each one sees himself in a top position under the system they are seeking to impose, in which case h-would do the ordering and the world would obey. What ever it is, it's individualism gone haywire

MARGARINE FOR FARMERS

Sellius margarine to farmers may seem like carrying coals to Newcastle. But it is being done on the By Ward market and doubtless elsewhere in Canada wherever the new spread is available. And what may seem more surprising, dairy farmers themselves are reported to have become customers for the butter-

The fact is, however, that farmers are as likely buyers of margarine as urban residents under today's system of farming. Many milk producers—penson most—never make a pound of butter from one year's

"If you've ever grown carrots in your garden, you "If you've ever grown carross in your garden, you can appreciate the advantages of a process that makes small seeds big. The seeds, are so they that you scatter thom along the row, far too generously for best results. Using pea-sized pelleted seeds, you can plant carrots as inch or so apart, with no thinning required."

"Flave you ever tried to get sweet corn a little before your neighbor by sowing it several weeks early? Unless you had a run of unseasonably warm weather Uniews you had a run of unneasonably warm weather most of the corp probably didn't even germinate. In a recent test corn was planted in a chamber with a recent test corn was planted in a chamber with ture was kepit at 45 degrees; then it was raised to a 85 degrees for cight days. Only 16 per cent of the control of the control of the control of the unirested corn germinatot; pelleted seeds produced 38 per cent germinaton."

'In addition to keeping seeds alive when it's cold, coating helps seeds to live through the heaviest soak ings. Last spring, for example, water stood on a field near Saginaw, Mich., for 15 days. Both pelleted and bare sugar beet seed had been planted in the field. When the water subsided a normal proportion of the pelleted seed (about 68 per cent) grew. Less than I per cent of bare seed lived."

'Many chemical weed killers are just as deadly to the seeds of flowers and vegetables as to those of ecds. Today, a coating of activated carbon on the outside of seed protects it from chemical weed killers."

WATCH WHAT YOU SIGN

People today are growing into the habit of algning their names to many documents without the least idea of what they are signing. This is a habit which is becoming increasingly prevalent due to the enormous number of forms and reports which people are asked

With so much government control, applications and other forms are increasing by leaps and bounds In any dealings with the government, some petty official is sure to shove a form across the counter with the curt command "sign here."

So the form is signed without reading, trusting at it does not give everything one owns to the government. Instead of training people to sign almost any docu-inated of training people to sign almost any docu-ment without reading it, it would be better if they were taught it take care to read very carefully, by were taught it take care to read very carefully, by insaining that everything should be read before signa-ling. This however would slow thinga up beyon't reason, but it night how that there are altogether too many and for lengthy government forms.

EEP THOSE LETTERS COMING!
Since an appeal was made in these columns a few ays ago asking contributors of "Letters to the editor" to sign them, the response has been most gratifying. Several contributions to this section have since been received, all signed, and will appear as space permits.

received, his signed, and will appeal as space permis-fish response has been encouraging and the letters mostly of current local interest.

These letters are an important part of this news-paper's function. They are the one effective medium through which a free exchange of views on the many local problems and items of daily topical interest may be carried on—They are essentially a vital part of the services of a free press serving a free people. But, and this is important, if this exchange of viewpoints is to serve a really useful purpose, criti-cism, if such they contain, must be constructive. Only carefully thought out and unbiased views or opinions should be expressed in these letters, otherwise their whole value is lost. Prejudiced, biased and radical expressions of opinon are not only undesirable but entirely unwelcome. They serve no purpose except to

Lindsay is a developing town, it is at present in a state of transition from a relatively small town to one of sizeable proportions. During such a period of growth a community needs the help of all publicminded citizens to guide its government and to guard its interests. "Letters to the editor" provide the med-ium through which this constructive assistance may be provided, Keep those vital letters flowing but before you write them make sure you have the welfare of the com-munity at heart and relegate selfish interests to the background. In this way you will be making a worthy contribution to a "better Lindsay."

DISREGARD OF THE LAW

DISRCARD OF THE LAW
Hon. George Doucette, Ontario Minister of Highways, is of the opinion that Ontario motorists show too little regard for the laws and rules governing motor traffic on the highways. He said so in his address to the 47th annual convention of the Ontario Good Roads Association. For instance, he said:
"Each year, some 185,000 motorists fail to obey

"Each year, some 185,000 motorists fall to obey the traffic signal lights on the Quese Elizabeth Way. Obviously, when there there is any marked disregard for such warnings, the lights become a meaner rather than a safety measure, for law-abiding motorists depend on them."

Traffic laws, Mr. Douestie pointed out, were not enacted merely for the purpose of collecting fines and imposing prison terms on offenders. They were insteaded to provide a code of good motoring manners, and to promote the safety of all the travelling public using the bighways. Respect of the travelling laws is evidence of good citizenship.

The Minister of Highways has struck the keynote.

The Minister of Highways has struck the keynote of any campaign for bighway traffic safety. If the laws and regulations were observed strictly by all motorists, there would be an immediate slump in the number of traffic accidents and resultant deaths. It is usually when some one or other of these regula-tions is ignored that motorists get into mishaps.

THE THRIFTY ABERDONIAN

THE THEFTY ABERDONIAN Scotf Jokes about the thirfly character of the people are endless, and ne city in Scotland suffers more—or rainer enjoy—from the "cracks" at their habits of saving, than the people of Aberdeen.
Perhaps the reputation is justified, for the annual meeting of the Aberdeen Savings Bank, a purely local and county institution, showed that savings to their credit on December 31 last, amounted to £36,60,000, of which £22,000,000 were held by the pool in the city itself. The number of city depositors is 10,000, or 56 per cent. of all the men and women of Aberdeen which is a city about the size of Hamilton.
Last year, £5,000 one depositors were added. In addition they put £5,500,000 into national savings cerificates through the bank.

dition they put Engaques with hard manufactures assume extificates through the bank.

The bank aimost entirely caters to the working classes, there being eight chartered banks with offices in the city, besides a number of mortgage or loan companies. And a lot more goes into insurance.

IT COULD ONLY HAPPEN IN A DEMOCRACY BUT HOW TOLERANT CAN DEMOCRATS BE

"The Communist Party leader in Britain pledged himself and his followers to treason today.

Communits leader Harry Pollitt took, words from the mouths of the Communits leaders in France and Italy. They had announced that Frenchmen and Italians were duty-bound to help any Russian army fighting on their soil.

Today, in London, Pollitt announced that British Reds will side with Russia it war comes. Pollitt's statement to the National Executive Committee of statement to the National Executive Committee of the Party was published in the London Daily Worker. Pollitt said British Reds would help Russia in the event of war by strikes and what he called "Councils of action." As the French and Italian Communist leaders had done, Pollitt called any future war "an leagers had done, rount cause any duties was an imperialist aggressive war against the U. S. R."
"Nothing can stop the advance of Communism," he said. And he added, "This will be no century of America... but the century of Communism."

in Loxion.

The leafilets were thrown by two men in the gallery shortly after the National Anthem was played.

One of the men shouted "home for the workers--not for rich."

But the royal couple ignored both the shouting and the lets as they looked over the exhibits.
Tonight, they will leave London for a two-day visit to These two items flowed off the wires of British United Press in the closing hours of Monday along with other news stories relating to the trial of 15 Protestant clergymen in Bugaria. Their proximity could not but impress upon us the tolerance of a could not out impress upon as the constance of a Democracy as compared with the intolerance of a Communist-dominated state. Likewise it was only natural that we should ask ourselves: "How tolerant emocrats be?"

Such arrogant and disgusting violations of democratic privileges as are attested in the aforegoing news releases are incensing decent human beings wherever the incidents are related. How much longer they are going to patient is difficult to say but it does seem that the time has now come to put those who utterly abuse the privileges of living in a Democratic country in their places . . . Perhaps for many that place would be "Russia."

WHY IS IT A FALSE DOCTRINE?

WHY IS IT A FALSE DOCTRINE?
President Truman is a recent speech declared that Communish was a "false doctrine." He did not enlarge on that statement. It is not enough to say that Communism is false-wby and how is it false? may be claimed that there must be some truth in it since it. has made such progress in Russia and has proved so attractive to large numbers of people in Europe and the Far East. Why is it so attractive to those people? The answer is, because they are dow
-and-out, they have nothing, and the Communists promise them everything. promise them everything.

Communist Leaders point to the Western World comminate Leasurs point to the vessurs works and asy, "Look at those people; they have seough and to spare, while you perish with hunger. Follow us, and we will make you prosperous and happy from the cradle to the grave." It is title wonder that people in such distress should so readily accept and bountful an offer. That does not mean that they have become Communists, for they know nobling about the econ-Communists, for they know nothing about the econ-omic doctrine of Karl Marx. They only know that they are hard up, and the Communist leaders tell them that the reason they are in that condition is because property and wealth are not equally divided—in other words, because of Capitalism. Get rid of Capitalism and you will be prosperous and progressive—like the people of the United States and Canada.

people of the United States and Canada.

It may wall be that Communism was the best thing for Russian people as a means of escape and emancipation from the feudalism of the Carr, and it may be a good thing for China in its present state of chaos.

Revolution always results in disorder, and disorder re-Revolution always results in disorder, and useroter re-sults in dictatorship and the consequent rise of a new governing class. This has already happened in Russia, with its Politburo, its commissars, bureaucrats, police and vast armises—all of which is the very opposite to the doctrine of Communism, and goes to prove that unworkable is shown in their imitation (and implied admiration) of the industrial processes and the econ-omics of capitalistic countries. They started with a system of equality of pay for all kinds of labor and services, but they discovered that this equality tended to encourage idleness among the manual workers and discourage efficiency and initiative among the mechdiscourage entitlency and inflative about one accurate anios and brain workers. The equality system was abandoned and a graded scale of pay, with special rewards, bonuses and privileges were introduced as incentives. This is said to have worked very well, but it is not Communism, and it reveals the fallacy of that doctrine. It won't work.

that doctrine. It won't work.

The Marzian maxim, "To each according to his need," may seem fair enough, and it might work very will in a comment of the seem of t cording to his need" and maintain adequate produc-tion. Whatever may be said against the "profit motive." It is an inherent motive in human nature, whether the profit be in the form of wages or divi-dends. Socialists talk gilbly about an "expanding economy," as It is were an automatic process and could be achieved by the adoption of a centralized plan drawn up by theoretical economists. But the only examples of expanding economy are capitalist countries where the people have had to depend upon their individual efforts for a living, and where enterprise has been free to expand by its own initiative.

has been free to expined by its own bitidative.

The fallacy of Communism and Socialism alike lies in the belief that the people can obtain social security and a rising standard of living by transferring their domestic cares and personal responsibilities to the State-train it, to an all-powerful government and a subquistous bost of civil servanis. Power must always be vested in government, but it is the power to govern and administer the civil laws and regulations of the State. In a democracy the government is not in the hands of one political party, but it is subject to periodic change by means of a free choice and election by a majority vote of the people. This system is a safeguard against a government becoming a dic-

The Communists reply to Mr. Truman would be that Capitalism is a false doctrine. But Capitalism is not a doctrine at all, nor is it a system; it is an essential condition of democratic freedom, and is subject to the laws and regulations of the State. Karl Marx, In his preface to the first edition of "Capital," wrote: "Within the ruling-classes themselves, a foreboding is "Within the rulling-classes unemanies, as forced and dawning, that he present society is no solid crystal, but an organism capable of change, and is constantly but an organism capable of change, and is constantly changing." That was an unconsocious compliment to Cepitalism, which is part of a social "ongage." Marx, and is constantly changing." Marx, of course, would destruct, would destruct that organism and aubstitute as system that is incapable of change, and is constant in turn a system that is incapable of changes. oying itself.—Contributed by Lewis Milligan.

THOSE UNSIGNED LETTERS

The Post has received a number of very interes-ting letters from readers of late which it would have liked to have published. The letters we refer to were dealing with topics of current general interest, were well prepared and would have made good reading for our subscribers but they lacked that one very essential thing—the signature of the writer.

It is the custom of many people to desire to ex-It is the custom of many people to destroy press their views on certain points through the press. This is quite in order and is a very healthy omen. It indicates that the residents of a community are awake and alert to things which are going on about them to the extent that they are anxious to participate for the extent that they are anxious to participate for the general good. The newspaper likes this type of person's contributions to their columns if they come to them signed so that they know with whom they are dealing and are assured that the writer has the courage of his or her convictions.

All too often newspapers have been used as tools to air petty or serious grievances in letters over the signature of "anonymous". Now, anyone realizes that such a signature means just one thing: "the writer has a bone of contention but he lacks the necessary backbone to back it up with his name and expects the newspaper to supply it." Unfortunately this just on't work out for reasons too obvious Newspapers exist to promote an exchange of viewpoints but a viewpoint without a sponsor becomes no viewpoint at all. Therefore, if you would have your letters to the press treated with the consideration you feel they deserve, please sign them. Of course, you many suggest a pen-name and not infrequently such names are used if requested, but the important thing is to let the press know with whom it is dealing. This is just as much to protect the readers of these letters as it is to safeguard the press.

LINDSAY'S 1949 BUDGET

There is mixed reaction to Lindsay's 1949 budget it is considered by the taxpayers.

as it is considered by the taxpayers.

Most people seem to have expected a rise in the tax rate and the majority of taxpayers had expressed a desire for more realism in the Town's budgeting.
Both expectation and desire have materialized but with what degree of satisfaction is still largely a mat-

At the moment there is an uneasiness prevailing as to the future. Conservative opinion is that the big boom is over despite optimistic prophesies to the contrary and that this is a time to out back in unneces-sary expenditures. This feeling prevails extensively in Lindsay and, while the 1949 budget will probably be accepted without undue protest, there is no doubt that it will be accompanied by insistent requests for rigid economy.

K might be interesting to note while discussing the 1949 budget that it was very necessary to make it a realistic one for the simple reason that the Town's reserves have been pretty well wiped out. In other words a heavy deficil, in 1949 would evaluate a good share of remaining reserves and, even though the people engloyed is lower mill rate for the year, it would evaluate a lower mill rate for the year, it would not be seen to be a second with the fact that the reserves are air. This, coupled with the fact that the reserves are air, and the second that the reserves are air, and the second that the second that the 1949 budget really be desired to take care of auticityated expenditures and, stemed to take care of auticityated expenditures and. signed to take care of anticipated expenditures and if possible, provide for a moderate year-end surplus.

If the town's check book is used with the utmost discretion it is probable that Lindsay may end the present year with more money in the bank than it started with and, if such is the case, the municipal government will have earned the confidence of the people. It can be done if needless expenditures are avoided, and if a rigid check is kept on the reins in the administration of the present budgeted funds.

THE PROVINCIAL BUDGET AND LINDSAY
Perhaps the greatest surprise of the Ontario Government's 1949 budget brought down Friday by Provincial Treasurer Leslie Frost was the announcement that in future subsidies paid by the Province would be directed to specific municipal departments. Reaction to this change of policy seems to be generally favorable in the Ontario press.

Lindsay, for example, in common with other On-tario towns, will benefit directly in two of its most

IN SHEEP'S CLOTHING

THIS tale originating from Paris that the Kremlin wants to prepare the way for tolerance and understanding between the east and west has a strange smell. Could it be that Stellin, Molotov and Co. have at last got it through their heads that the limit of at last got it through their near that the their political aggression has been reached and that the west is definitely dug in at the present line of demarcation between democracy and Marxism-Leninsem or have they got some further crafty plan up their sleeves to lull the western nations into a sense of false security'

The thought of the diamond-hard chieftains of the Politour carting around large olive branches clenched in their fists seems a mite queer in view of their past performances in places like Czechoslovakia and their current activities in China.

Certainly, world peace, would be a blessed and beautiful thing, but when offered by the U. S. S. R. beautiful like a Virgilian Greek bearing gifts!

Possibly the suspicious man should be upbraided for not leaping in to shake the paws of the Politburocrats, but they have changed their tactics so often in the

but they have changed their tactics so often in the past that this new "pace" offer may be nothing but a truce designed to work to Stalln's advantage. No, to us this proferred handclasp is strangely reminiscent of the infamous "handchake" murder of the old Cappone days in Chicago. VALUE OF NEWSPAPERS

The people of Buenos Aires, capitol of the Argentine Republic, last week-end learned how much their newspapers mean to them. Because of a printers' strike, no newspapers or magazines were being printed in the city. The result was that the Argentine capitol became flooded with all kinds of wild and fantastic rumors, and deprived of their usual source of factual reports, the people were almost in a state of panic as the rumors passed from mouth to ear and were re peated all over the city. Even the efforts of radi-stations, through news broadcasts, and of posters is Even the efforts of radio sued by the government, were not sufficient to re-assure the people that there were no foundation for the rumors.

There could be no better illustration of the value of newspapers to their community than this incident in Buenos Aires. Day by day, the newspapers bublish reports of all that is going on in their own community and country and throughout the world. These reports have come to be recognized as accurate and authoritative, and certainly every newspaper sidves for accuracy. Deprived of their newspapers, and left. It is the dark or a pixel is color on around them. in the dark as to what is going on around them, it is in the dark as to what is going on around them, it is not surprising that people became a prey to baseless and disurbing rumors. Thus the newspapers, in giving the news, perform a vital and essential service to the population of the communities they serve.

In the West there are people who abhor the Douglas brand of Socialism and who think Mr. Gardiner was wrong in his wheat policy. Yet some of these las orand of Socialism and who think Mr. Gardiner was wrong in bis wheat policy. Yet some of these same people are opposed to permitting a farmer to sell his wheat where and when and how he likes. In cities there are people violently opposed to Messrs. Coldwell, Joliffe, Winch and Company, who at same time believe that rent controls are needed and are helpful.

There are people who advocate freer trade among the nations who likewise believe that foreign exchange control is needed.

There are people who groan over tax bills who demand more and more from governments.

Until there are more people who realize that the nation cannot be really free with so much government, vital departments-police and fire. As was explained by Mr. Frost, each of these services will be given a 25 per cent subsidy on their year's expenditures as of

What does this mean in terms of dollars and cents to Lindsay on the basis of this year's anticipated ex-penditures in these two departments? It means that If Lindsay's police and fire protection budget of $33,-625 is entirely spent in 1949, the actual cost to the town will be approximately $25,219 or roughly $2,322 less than as if last year's provincial subsidy had continued in effect.

From this it can be seen that the town will be in a position to do one of two things--improve either both of the department's services to the extent of $2,222 next year or apply it to its general fund which could in turn reflect itself in an improved condition of the town's finances at the end of the year 1950.

Since Lindsay has already found it necessary to step up the services of these two departments the knowledge that it will receive additional revenue will be more than welcome

On a breader scale, this direction of subsidies could conceivably result in improved fire and police protec-tion across the province with the result that countless thousands of dollars, lost annually through inadequate fire and police protection, could be saved.

If this latter probable effect becomes a reality, the mario budget's direct subsidies will have accomp-shed an important mission.

Too Much to Expect won't be important. One tiny catacomb his S.F.F. won't be important convention.

TEACH HISTORY, NOT PROPAGANDA

Real Canadians who hope to see this country gen-uinely united will heartily appland the sentiments ex-pressed by LAbbe Arthur Maheux in Toronto recently, states the Financial Post. The distinguished president of the Canadian Historical Society, and professor of history at Laval University, sharply assailed the dis-torted history textbooks used in various provinces.

To have one version, of our history presented in Quebe or Nova Scotla and another distinctly different version in Outario or British Columbia is not good enough argues The Post. That sort of thing can only lead to confusion and greater segregation. Instead of teaching history we are simply spreading propaganda.

teaching history we are slimply spreading propaganda. If we are to have the fullest co-operation between French and English speaking Canadians, if the clitten of British Columbia is to really understand his fellow Canadian in the Atlantic Provinces then each must know something of the other's history, of the problems of the past and of the great heroes of the past. That knowledge is not shared today for the simple reason that there is little in common in the history taught in the schools of the different provinces.

SUPERVISION IS ONE THING, ABSOLUTE CONTROL IS ANOTHER

ASSOLUTE CONTROL IS ANOTHER
Several members of Lindsay's Council seem to be of the opinion that their say is not apt to count for much in the matter of choosing the type of pension plan they will adopt for the town employees. It was disclosed at this week's Committee meeting that any type of plan desired and to negotiate with any ac-mitted for approval to the Ontario Dept. of Municipal mitted for approval to the Unitario Dept. Or substitution Affairs. During the discussion Ald. Ferguson and Mayor Moore said they thought they recalled having been advised by the County Treasurer that only a "government annuity" type of pension plan would be acceptable to the department.

to carry out the contract.

Many large insurance companies deal in pension plans. It is possible that some of their proposals might be more flexible, give better returns and cost less than government-sponsored schemes. This being so, it would seem as though any refusal to permit a nicipality to negotiate with them in an undertaking ments is understandable in view of the fact that local government changes frequently but reasonable superision is one thing and absolute control is another

SAFETY FOR CHILDREN
The need for safety measures to safeguard the lives of Onkawa school children was brought into sharp focus by the Inquest held into the untiley death in an automobile accident of 15-year-old Thomson Gagnon. The jury, in its verifier, called attention to the heavy traffic on Mary Street between 11:30 a.m. and 11:30 pm., and suggested that stop lights should be placed adjacent to school areas.

This question of the safeguarding of school children during hours of heavy traffic has been up for discussion on more than one occasion in recent months, and while the problem was recognized as a serious one, it is not on record that snything hearious contraftic lights to be used during school recent grants to traffic lights to be used during school recent problem of traffic lights to be used during school recent periods or traffic lights to be used during school recent grants.

of traffic lights to be used during school recess periods might be one solution of the difficulty, but others have also been suggested. For instance, it was suggested that a number of veterans of mature experience might be employed as special traffic police at busy corners or intersections used by school children, at the periods when children are going to or returning from school.

This system has worked very well in Toronto and other cities, and there is no reason why it could not at least be tried here

The death of Thomas Gagnon might bring the subject to the fore again in the discussions of public bodies concerned with this problem, and perhaps, with bodies concerned with this problem, and piece, when the thought of this tragedy in their mineria, swit, those responsible may be impelled to take positive action. We can recall another occasion on which it required a fatal accident to secure protection of a dangerous crossing. Perhaps the fact of this boy's death may rescribed the control of the protection of all section (which produced the protection of all section of the protection of the prote

For the record:

Municipalities are becoming increasingly alarmed at the threat poised at them in the form of provincial government fingers in their pie. It has frequently been found that there is more truth than fiction in the adage: "He who pays the fiddler calls the tune."
Municipal grants may be the price of calling the tune.

Ald Ferguson says the municipal dollar will build "True," observes one local wit, "and it will in 1949.

It has been suggested that the least the town could do for its dead rat population is to bury it.

TOURIST BUSINESS IS BIG BUSINESS

The tourist or visitor industry is rapidly becoming a highly specialized business which may, in the fore-secable future, become the nation's largest industry. Because future, become the fathous stagest industry. That Ontario is alert to this prospect and is planning to do everything possible to nurture it along is evident from the stepped up attention given this field recent months.

It was interesting to glance briefly through some It was interesting to game energy drops some of the data on the visitor industry which was made available to those who attended the First Annual Tourist Conference in Niagara Fails, Ontario, last week. In so doing an awareness was gained of the tremendous scope and influence of the visitor industry which dous scope and influence of the visitor industry which is not generally understood.

An informative booklet which was distributed at the conference entitled "Visitor Industry" notes that visitors to Ontario and the rest of Canada contribute substantially to the following phases of the nation's substantially for the suowang pulsase of the ancient ecocomy: (a) employment, directly and indirectly as-sociated with the tourist trade; (b) profits to manu-facturers, wholesalers, jobbers and retailers through increased demand; (c) taxes through gasoline, hunt-ing, fishing and other special levies and (d) agricul-ture by the increased consumption of domestic products which would not otherwise be possible.

which would not otherwise be possible.

These are four good reasons why the tourist or visitor industry demands the utmost respect not only by those directly associated with the trade but by all those who stand to benefit by its success which, incidentally, includes us all.

Mayor Moore of Lindsay, one of the delegates to Mayor Moore of Lindsay, one of the delegates to the conference, said on his return that it had done more than anything else to make him acutely aware of Lindsay's important place in the visitor Industry of Ontario, occupying as it does a artatagic gateway position to the great Kawartha and Haliburton re-

Tourist business is big business and its essential private enterprise, the system in which effort determines results, and anyone can participate.

JUST HOW FAR CAN FREEDOM GO WHEN IT IS DESIGNED TO DESTROY FREEDOM

DESIGNED TO DESTROY FREEDOM?

Northern News commenting on the subject "Treason" has raised several interesting points which we believe can not be exposed to too much light of day;

Treason, the "News" writes, is an unpleasant term for an unpleasant erime. It is true that no crimes are pleasant, but certain the property of the property of the selling pair of your remarks.

Treatment of the selling pair of your remarks to a servery the selling pair of your remarks to a servery. the selling out of your country to an enemy was pun-ishable by death. It was not until recently in history that most countries, perhaps motivated more by humanity than wisdom, liberally tempered justice with mercy and decreed that imprisonment, rather than death, should be the sentence, providing the offence was committed in peacetime.

What constitutes treason is, of course, a matter for the courts to decide. The world has recently been edified by the spectacle in three democratic countries of political parties, made of people claiming the rights of citizenship in those countries, issuing official stateof citizenship in toose countries, issuing critical state-ments that if their countries were invaded by a foreign power, they would welcome and assist invader. Techni-cally this may not be treason. Perhaps it, is necessary to be caught in the act of betrayal to be guilty of this crime. But whether it is treason or not, certainly it must constitute a crime of sufficient seriousness to issuiffy these countries in taking the messageany stems must constitute a crime of sufficient seriousness to justify these countries in taking the necessary stops to protect themselves against this threatened betrayout Just how much freedom of speech and action is a democratic country justified in extending to those who, by their own admission, are potential, if not ac-tual, traitors? Surely, these three countries—Great Britain, France and Italy—could scarcely be consured if they should decide to take repressive measures against those of their cliticans who have sworn openly to their willingness to act as traitors. It would be survoising if the Community marry 'in

It would be surprising if the Communist party in this country were to issue a similar statement. Can-adian Reds probably wouldn't risk it so soon after certain of their members have already been found guilty of treason and sentenced to imprisonment. But make no mistake about it: they are equally enthusias-tic about selling out their country as are their Euronean counterparts.

LOWER PRICES BRING WELCOME RELIEF

Reports of dropping prices on the necessities of life, particularly in food lines, are welcome news for the harried housewife who has watched the purchasing power of her dollar dwindle almost continuously since the outbrack of World World Almost Continuously since the outbreak of World War H. This levelling off muce the outbreak of World War II. This levelling off in prices, while not all that might be desired even yet, will bring relief to the family budgets of thousands of Canadians where it will do the most good. It will also permit more of the basic things required for decent

As usual, when prices start tumbling a bit, As usual, when prices start tumbing a bit, the prophets of door raise helir victoes in mourtuit ory and no end of evil spices appear before their beclouded eyes. However, it seems appeared in the case of declining food prices, that their efforts to convince the consumers that they are on the threshold of disaster will be of no avail. The fact is that everyone, except those who stand to gain by challedling the exceptiant prices for the necessities of life, is glad to see this trend away from the fantastic and back to the intrinsic value of things. It might be termed a return to economic sanity -- a transition from the unreal to the real value of things.

Lower prices should mean higher consumption so that the overall effect of any cut-backs will probably be beneficial rather than detrimental. Increased production, necessitated by higher-consumption, brought about by a stronger dollar, will result in sustained or increased employment and the wealth of the nation's

Others Say

COFFEE FOR BRITONS?

It may be true that Britain was once a country of coffee-drinkers. But to lure it now from its attachment to tea would constitute an undertaking so ment to fee would constitute an undertaking so formidable as to daunt ordinary men. Mr. B. Mac-lezuie, socretary of the British Coffee Buyers Associa-tion, thinks t can be done by teaching housewives to brew drinkable coffee. He may, indeed, inspire an improvement in the revolting stuff that passes for coffee in the United Kingdom, but this alone is un-likely to divert Hritons from their preference for tea. Coffee is a driak and little more, it is well-sulfive on mercamonious North America, where as Issat, in England, in most of the substitute of the transpire of the substitute of the transpire of the substitute of the little substitute of little substitute of a skilled art.

Eliminate this rigmarole, and what is left? Only some pleasantly-flavored water. Without the mumbojumbo that accompanies tea drinking, it would probably never have become a national institution in Britain. It is a mark of unhurried living; it aids in Bettain. It is a mark of unnurried living; it does in cultivating the art of conversation. It is this that Bri-tons like and want. But what ceremony could be developed around coffee? What would a percolator look like, when draped with a cosy? Awful. Mr. Mackenzie has a hard row to hoe.—Ottawa Citizen.

THIRTY-FIVE MILLION DOLLARS OF LIQUOR REVENUE

The Ontario Budget presented to the Legislature last Friday showed that the largest single item of inlest Priday showed that the largest single item of the creased revenue was nine million dollars which the Liquor Control Board has made; $9,000,000 of extra profit shove that expected a year ago. The total net revenue which the Government and people of Ontal made from the sale of liquor was $35,000,000,000 of this was of course tax. Another $1,205,000 was netted from Liquor Autority transfer fees.

If the prohibitionists had their way they would ban the sale of liquor. How do they propose to find the $35,000,000, or one-sixth of the Province's total rev-enue, which the Province would thereby lose? While enue, which the Fronnee would deserve lose: while the liquor laws of Ontario may not be perfect or re-sult always in true temperance, there is not the lack of control that existed in O.T.A. days, and in addition there is this revenue of $35,000,000 which is raised not by direct taxation on all the people, but only by those who are willing to pay it people will probably remain generally about the same during the period of high prices

SOME DANGEROUS CONTRAPTIONS

AROUND OUR SCHOOLS AROUND OUR SCHOOLS
Walking past one of our schools the other day we were impressed by the number of gadgets around this particular school which could result in disaster for some pupil. The fact that they were allowed to consistence, was rather surprising, especially date it would probably be assumed by the majority of parents that every attention would be given to safety around a

At the school in question there were several very dangerous fixtures installed at the east and west en-trances to the building. They included victous looking foot scrapers, which could inflict nasty wounds if a child were to fall or be shoved on to them, and a set of unnecessarily long, sharp-pointed hooks for use in holding open the doors during the warmer weather. These hooks are suspended from steel posts well above the ground---just about the right height to snag a person if they happened to fall in the immediate vicinity. There shay be other contraventions of normal safe-ty practices in connection with school installations or fluxers but it seemed that these were contraptions which could stand improving for the reasonable pro-tection of chiffern against misadventure. Perhaps their installation was made with more thought on sturmless of construction than suitaminess of construction than suitamines and adults to provide for their safety instafra as this is possible and this should be carried out as fully as is practical and she should surrounded the special practical state should surrounded the practical state should surrounded the should surrounded the special state of the state practical amid school surrounding

WHAT ABOUT ALL THOSE OTHER MILK PRODUCTS?

Canada's dairy industry, through its various repre-sentative agencies, is continuing to press for logis-lation to protect it against any menace eleomargarine macon to protect a against any means obscular garme may constitute towards it.Obviously the big meanse to the dairymen, judging by the butter market reaction of the past week, is in the price field. Naturally any drop in the price of butter is resented by the industry and is being fought tooth and nail. This is to be expected.

However, it is rather significant that while the margarine vs. butter controversy rages on, the dairy industry has completely forgotten all about the other phases of its activities. It has forgotten, or so it would pusses or the accritises. It has lorgored, of so it was seem to the public, all about the good price it is getting for milk, the price that cream and its by-products is bringing and other things which do not give the impression that the industry is in dire straights. The only way in which the public could be expected to judge the urgency of the dairy industry's need for

to judge the urgency of the dairy industry's need for protection against the effects of margarine on its livelihood would be to present all the facts relating to its operations. To cite only one branch of the industry and hold it up as a sure sign that the whole business is going to the dogs is not reasonable.

EASY ON ROAD BUILDING

This is not the time to splurge on road building, Ontario Highways Minister George Doucett advised the Ontario Good Roads Convention last week. With road construction costs at least double prewar, and cement, steel and labor still critically short in most parts of the country, this is sound advice.

parts of the country, this is sound advice.

True most sections of the country could do with more and better roads. At least it is fairly easy to convince ourselves that we need them. But to get them in any volume right now not only will prove them in any volume right now not only will prove mighty expensive but it will interfere with essential construction in other fields as well. Everywhere we are trying to build factories, houses, power plants, schools, hospitals and other essential construction, which normally would have been spread over the last ten year. If to this war-delayed program is added an enormous increase in road-building, then we are asking for real famines in basic building materials like steel, cement and lumber.

Instead of risking that, municipalities, as Mr. Doucett suggests, would be well advised to keep a tight grip on expenditures. Later on, when we have caught up with our war-deferred essential construction, municipalities will get better value for their road dollars icipalities will get better rand and their orders will be appreciated, too. —Stouffville Tribune

ADVEDTISING ON LICENSE PLATES

Of the forty-eight states in the U.S.A., thirty-five use automobile license plates which are simple identifications; the other thirteen advertise themselves on their plates, and the Milwaukee (Wis.) Journal recently protested against this custom, and particularly urged the State of Wisconsin to stop advertising itself as "America's Dairyland" in this way. Wyoming adorns its plate with a picture of a cowboy on horse-back; Vermont says "Green Mountains"; Florida proclaims itself "Sunshine State"; New Mexico grandly asserts that it is "The Land of Enchantment" and Arkansas says it is "Opportunity Land". The other seven make claims of various kinds on their plates.

seven make claims of various kines on their plates. We do not do this in Canada, and upon the whole we are glad of it. However great our pride in our provinces, we should not compel motorists to become travelling advertisements for them. If any alteration is made in our license plates we hope that it will be a change to a permanent fixed plate, with a slip which can be changed from year to year. The arguments in favour of such a plan are many, and not the least of these is the saving of labour and material which it would bring about.—Peterborough Examiner.

SIGNS OF SPRING

Spring comes to Canada officially on March 21st. Actually in most parts it comes a month later. How-Actually in most parts it comes a month later. How-wer, this year some sort of equilibra has been at work. Victoria, where snow is repitted to be as rare as manna, has had a heavy without, so roses are not yet blooming. Ontario has had a light one and al-ready views seen to be burgeoning—in fanny at least. Sap is running in the Maritimes. Ice-breakers have come up the St. Lawrence as far as Morreakers have ing that port almost a month earlier than any date on record. The weather locally may still be described as "cold" and not merely cool, but a year ago Monday as "cold" and not merely cool, but a year ago Monday the thermometer dropped to seventeen below zero, and this week it has been well above zero and the sun radiant. We cannot honestly say that the grass here-about is showing new green, as it is fin Vancouver, nor that tulips are up and in bud, as they are in Victoria. But we have hope, after such a light winter that spring is on the way.—Peterborough Examiner

INTIMATE JOURNALISM
Every newapper has its own rules and establishes Its own tone. As a general thing the rules are the rsult of widespread newapaper experience, and in Canada the tone tends to be an impersonal, somewhat formal one. Bit we are always delighted when we discovered anything comparable to this notice from a weekly paper in Kansas.

"Ten cents straight a line will be charged for all obituary notices to all business men who do not adcontains forces to an business men who do not advertise while living. Canada isn't the only place having trouble with the oleomargarine question. In U.S.A. a movement is underway to have it sold without the yellow coloring. A spokesman for the pro-colored section says, and we quote, "housewives should be allowed to decide for themselves what they will buy and nothing should be done to make oleomargarine less attractive in ap pearance that butter."

DIRECTOR'S REPORT

The Directors have pleasure in submitting herewith their Fifty-Third Annual Report showing statement of the Assets and Liabilities of the Company as at December 31st, 1948, together with the Profit and Loss Account for the year ending on that date.

The net earnings, after providing for interest on Deposits and other Trust Funds, cost of Management and all other expenses, amount to $15,056.57. To this must be added the sum of $43,852.38 brought forward from 1947 making the total for distribution for the year of $215,81,90 which has been appropriated as shown in the Profit and Loes Account below.

The total assets under administration have increased during the year by $1,360,169.65 and profits before taxes are up $32,762.03 over 1947.

It is with deep regret we record the death of Mr. Wesley Walden, a Director of the Company for thirty-two years, and a Vice-President since 1947. This vacancy on the Board has been filled for the balance of the term by the appointment of Mr. L. A. Walden, the elder son of the late Wesley Walden.

During the year the Royal Bank building, which was acquired some years ago, became varant and, after necessary alterations, now provides much needed additional office and working space and permits greater efficiency in serving the general public.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

LINDSAY, January 12th, 1949.

WILL 179,567 MORE BE KILLED OR INJURED?

During the past 15 years 9,567 persons have been killed and 170,000 injured in motor vehicle accidents in Ontario.

If the present rate continues it is estimated that the same number will be killed and quite as many injured in accidents on our streets and highways within the next 15 years.

The Department of Highways, the police and other organizations and agencies are working to reduce this needless waste of life, health and property. But the final solution of this problem is Yours—the drivers and the pedestrians. YOU AND ONLY YOU CAN STOP ACCIDENTS.

Accept your responsibility as a citizen and do your part each day to make highway conditions safe.

Metropolitan Reports to Policyholders on 1948 Business

Here is the Financial Statement of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company for last year. It is more than just figures, because back of them is the story of what 32,700,000 policyholders in Canada and the United States have done for their families and themselves.

The role of Metropolitan, like that of any Life insurance company, has been to help policyholders to make effective their individual plans for protection against the uncer-tainties of life. This Statement is a brief account of its stewardship.

The amount poid to policyholders and beneficiaries in 1948 was 3721.366,356. Of this sum, 3363,780,754 went to the beneficiaries of 230,000 policyholders (250,000 policyholders) osepe 450,000 individuals for Matured E. 1849,000 individuals for Matured E. 1849,000 individuals for Matured E. 1849,000 individuals for Matured Les and Manuilies and 389,301 235 for 550,000 of Dealbilty and Accident & Health benefits. In addition, the total paid included sums for each surreader violencial, and other payments due under outstanding policies.

The total payments by Metropolitan to policyholders and beneficiaries during the last 16 years aggregated $9.346,330,825 — a sum which has served as a stabilizing influence in homes and communities throughout this country and the United States. This total exceeds the Company's assets of $9,125,145,007 as of December 31, 1948.

These assets are held to meet colligations of $8,591,210,201, of which more than 90% represents statutory reserves for future payments to posicyholders and beneficiaries. Over and above these obligations, there remained a surplus of $33,394,800, which is about 67% of deligations—a back-log which must be available against the possibility of epidemios, adverse economic conditions or other universecable situations.

The Company's assets guarantee the fulfilment of the 3599,85,17,854 of Metropolitan life insurance in force. In addition, they assure the payment of the 446,374 annuity and supplementary contracts outstanding, and the 6-546-412 policies or certificate providing benefits in event of either accident, sickness, hospitalization, surgical or medical expense.

CUSTOMERS PAY

A contemporary gives us something to think about in his observations on the wage and price question in the following paragraphs:

in the following paragraphs:

Labor should understand and the people should understand that the real employers of labor are the people's labor, and he is paying their wages. If the price of sox or of butter in beyond his means he buys consumers who buy the goods. When a man buys a pair of sox or a pound of butter, he is buying other lease of them and thus employ less labor; and he law less of them and thus employs less labor; and no law can compel him to do more. High wage rates are not necessarily good wages;

High wage rates are not necessarily good wages; nor high price necessarily good prices, for wage rates can be so high that few men will be employed and little wealth produced; and prices can be so high that few goods will be sold and few people properly fed, clothed, or housed. The best wages and the best prices are those that encourage the greatest product on and the widest distribution of goods. It follows then that the task of wage adjuster is to discover what: wage will encourage the workers to produce the most goods and the consumers to employ the most workers, for this wage will place the greatest quantity of goods in the hands of the greatest number of

There's little pessimism about Canada's economic future in the next ten years among prominent investors, consultants, financial and industrial leaders generally across Canada.

Almost without exception, answering a Financial Post question on a ten-year investment program, em-phasis was laid on importance of investing in fields which are closely connected with our natural resources: mineral production, oil and gas, pulp and paper,

"I am bullish on Canada"; "Canada is a magnet
... poised at the threshold of a great new phase in her development"; "I would play it right across the board."

It's not all milk and honey, however. For such an It's not an image and noney, nowever. For such an investment project, there are certain factors to be borne constantly in mind—uncertainties of international trade... ("... until Canada finds its place in the new trading world..."), large government expenditures for social security, etc., high taxation, world conditions reflecting "dynamic political and economic changes." All these factors would make it imperative to watch such an investment plan constantly, to avoid rigidity in over-all investment policy.

WHY PENALIZE THE DOGS 2

Mayor Moore has stated that he will ask Town Council to pass a by-law requiring that dogs up to one year old, with certain exceptions be certified sterone year oin, winc cerain exceptions be certified ster-file before a dog license is issued. The exceptions are said to include dogs kept for bunting and (or) breed-ing purposes. His worship contends that such a by-law would eventually reduce the number of dogs runtring all the dogs in this age class for the neglectful actions of a few of their owners which doesn't seem entirely right since the dogs are innocent victims of circumstances. In Linday at the present time, revenue from the sale of dog licenses, amounts to several hundred dollars annually, little of which, apart from the cost of tagging, recording, etc., is spent keeping the dogs and their owners in fine with present be-judws. The proposal, viewed in this light, doesn't appear to be expédient. A more direct approach to the prob-round seem to be to utilize some of the revenue from any other proposals when the prob-leve in the prob-round seem to be to utilize some of the revenue.

As this paper has contended in the past a good sharp dog catcher would do more to eliminate "the dog at large" problem than anything else. Such a man need not be engaged full time, nor need the expense entailed be heavy, to get results. Such a service ap-pears to be needed badly in Lindsay and we feel reasonably sure it would create fewer headaches than reasonamy sufe it would create tewer headaches than the sterilization plan. In this way only offenders of the law are penalized, whereas under the steriliza-tion plan the good would suffer with the bad. What are your views on this matter? Direct them in signed letter form to the "Voice of the People" column, care of this paper.

WHY SHOULD LINDSAY ASK THE ONTARIO DEPT. OF MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS HOW TO ASSESS ITS PROPERTY?

There is, at the present moment, a movement underway in Lindsay to have the town reassessed. It in claimed that certain inequalities in assessment exist and that it is to clear this situation up that the reassessment program is proposed. In order to do this the Town Council has entered into constantion with the Ontario Dept. of Municipal Affairs reportedly to secure their help in carrying out the reassessment program—It is, in fact, proposed to have the depart-ment send a man to Lindsay to assist in the work of

It is only natural that the property owners of Lindsay should be concerned about the necessity for Linnay anoth be concerned about the necessity tor-calling in outside help to assess their homes and places of business. They cannot understand why such a move is necessary and they are not particularly anxious to have their tar rate boosted still higher try-ing to maintain an elaborate system of assessment, the value of which is to be questioned in the light of the sad experiences of other towns with reas

THE PRESS AND DOUBTFUL 'CURES'

The value of administering massive doses of Via-min E for certain heart conditions has been a matter of controversy ever since announcement of the treat-ment aimost two years ago. There can be no doubt of the sincere belief of Drs. Evan and Wilfred Shute in the efficient of this of the success belief of DPS. EVAN and Whitee Shuke in the efficacy of this form of treatment; and their impatience over the scepticism of other doctors is easily understandable. the irrends of the outcome have unous, at 0.15 in the face of facts. The profession has not been too slow to adopt new remedies when consistent results were proved, as witness insulin, the sulfas and penicillin. The doubts that exist, therefore, are honestly founded. While it would appear that many people who have taken the vitamin claim they feel better. who mave taxen the vitamin claim tasy feel better, there is still considerable uncertainty as to whether the result is an actual change in the course of the disease, or psychological lift. It would, however, be an unwise at present to assert that Vitamin E. was as unwise at present to assert that Vitamin E. was uncleas as that it was a certain curre. That such an undertaking should have been launched without advising the taxpayer of it is also grounds for anxiety. Surely they are entitled to be told well in advance of any such plans when it is told well in advance of any such plans when it is their property and their purses which will be affected. It was entirely apparent at a mass protest meeting some months ago that the majority of people eithat the Town's assessor or assessors should be quite capable of valuating property for purposes of assessment. It is equally apparent that the same people, who would have at that time saddled Lindsay with an expensive and to all appearances, "crippting," system of assessment are on the march again.

It is strikingly significant that both this and the previous movement to "systematice" Lindsay's assessment procedure were launched at special meetings of Council to which the public press was not invited.

as a result of this latest development is: "If every-thing is on the "up and up" why the need for keeping the public uninformed at the outset?"

The Post in the past has contended that the assessor or the assessors of the Town should be capable, without outside interference or elaborate systems, of assessing property to the satisfaction of all, (or nearly all, since 100 per cent efficiency is seldom achieved) the people concerned. It still believes this achieved) the people concerned. It still believes this to be true and it has the towns of Newmarket and Newcastle, as well as the city of Toronto to subsanitate this claim. In all these places elaborate reassessment systems have ben tried, much to the dismay of the majority of property owners. Equalization plans in these places have, in many cause, resulted in interpretables for greater than those experienced in What then do the people of Lindsay want their Town Council to do? Do they wish them to hire a qualified assessor, which is now necessary to replace the late Mr. Williams, and get on with the job in a business-like way or do they wish to have the assis-tance of an outside agency employed to tell Lindsay's assessor how he should do his job, Saddle the town with more expensive red tape and generally create a furore? Whatever their wishes are they should make them known to Council now—before it is too late!

Lindsay's assessments should be open to revision amously a seessment sound oe open to revision any time but it should be carried out on a common sense basis. Assessment here or anywhere else should be on a basis which will encourage improvement and beautification of homes and industries—This is not possible when you introduce a system which jacks up assessments whenever a little paint is applied or an additional feature built into the home or industry to improve upon it. Location and type of land, etc., are other factors which qued consideration and assessment should be done so as to encourage everyone to contribute to the general status of the community. contribute to the general status of the communic No hard and fast rules of evaluation can be laid dow

THERE MAY BE SOMETHING IN IT!

A very sensible observation on the current prob-lem of "hoodlumism" which seems to be gaining momentum in parts of Ontario is contained in the current issue of the "Scene from Shingwank Farm".

"The proudest possession of a young hoodlum who fancles himself as a budding gangster is a scrapbook of newspaper clippings regarding his exploits in crime". "The friend who told us about this case feels that ego by the notice he gets."

"Although it seems more dangerous to conceal the extent of crime than it is to reveal it, it is possible that juvenile crime would decline if newspapers omitted to give the names and addresses of the young braggarts who band together to gain attention. It is so much easier to become notorious than it is to achieve fame, that indolent young people who have active white, that moveme young people who have not acquired satisfactory purposes in life resort to crime as a means of getting into the limelight. A complete lack of newspaper publicly might prove to be the best deterrent to those whose tendency to show-off should have been directed earlier into useful means of earning distinction." Well Worth The Price

In the meantime, there is a definite responsibility In the Meantine, there is a definite representa-laid upon newspapers not to lead themselves to un-supported claims of "cures." This policy might on occasion err on the side of caution, but the gain in public interest far outweighs the loss of a temporary advantage to the newspaper.

No element of the community regrets the delay in finding remedies for such maladies as heart disease in finding remedies for such maiadies as neart disease and cancer more than the medical profession. Even-tually, the causes of these ills will be found, and cures may follow. There will be no delay in bringing these into use when their value has been proved. It is un-fortunate that some are led to live recklessly and risk premature death as a result of hopes that have doubtful foundation.—Globe and Mail.

As reported in the official organ of the Roumanian government, its reason for the restoration of harsh measures is that "exploiters of yesterday have not given up their thought to bring back a new regime of terror, misery and humiliation and to sell our coun-

ASSESSMENT SHOULDN'T BECOME COMPLICATED UNDERTAKING

The trend today in so many branches of admnis-tration of public affairs is towards too much red tape tration of public anims is towarine too much ret above which complicates things and tends to obscure the real issues. This tendency is noted with regret in attempts to set up elaborate systems of assessment in various municipalities. Since, in the light of ex-perience, this is not at all satisfactory and results in of assessment for Lindsay.
It is acknowledged that in the case of asses

It is acknowledged that in the case of assessments proper records are necessary. It must also be conceded that records, as such, serve a very useful reference purpose but it must always be remembered that records are comprised of findings previously made and, in the case of assessment, should never be kept to determine future assessments. If they are so headed for a heap of trouble.

Perhaps the most conclusive argument against employing a "system" of assessment is the constant state of fluctuation which prevails in real estate what is true of property today is not true to-morrow. For this reason the value of property for assessment purposes must be determined at intervals by the asor who must be in close touch with the local

In connection with the so-called proposed reassess in connection with the so-caused proposed reassess-of Lindsay it is bard to see wby there is any need to earry it out on an elaborate and costly "systematized" basis. As it appears now, all that Lindsay really needs to do is hire a qualified assessor and authorize him to proceed with the work of assessment. He does not, and should not be instructed to "reassess" snips to the taxpayers might accrue.

Everything in connection with assessment should be kept entirely out in the open and the minute it begins to go underground the taxpayers should protest vigorously to their elected representatives. Again we emphasize that methods of assessment should be kept simple and be carried out by an assessor in personal contact with each property. Regard should be primarily given to general location and construction with benefits rather than penalties for improvements and innovations to the betterment of the community.

Others say

CANG UP ACAINST THE CONSUMER
Urban constituencies which in the last provincial elections voted preponderously CCF found yesterday, in the oleomargarine debate in the Legislature, that they had no one to speak for them. The Government and Liberals seem to have concluded that they must and Libertas seem to mave concluded that they must rely on the farmers anyway, and the CCP is so busy wooing the rural vote that it has no time to waste on its newly acquired urban supporters. The 79-2 vote in the Legislature found Conserva-tives, Liberals and CCP banded together to give the consumer a black eye and to harass manufacturers.

with nuisance regulatons to hamper the production of a wholesome food. This attempt to gouge the consumer will probably gain the farmers little.

The only support the consumer had in the Legislature yesterday was from the two Communists, who have no hope of gainng office and who have therefore nothing to lose .- Telegram.

Which bow whoch consolation
And darkness, that One that beeds our cries
And causes the morning sun to rise.
Faith is balan for mortal fears

LET'S HAVE THE FACTS.

LET'S HAVE THE FACTS.

MR. MAYOR AND COUNCIL!

Mayor Moore is an interview Monday said he was at a loss to understand why the Post was opposed to equalization of assessment in Lindsay. The answer to that is very simple: The Post is opposed to attempts to bring about so-called equalization of assessment because it less than 100 ments of the most because it less than 100 ments of the most because it less than 100 ments of the most of th ment problem requires individual treatment because it is in no way related to anything going before. For aple: Two men may be owners of two houses located side by side and of identical construction. On the surface there would seem to be no reason why they shouldn't have the same assessment but there may be many reasons. Top soil on one lot may be poorer than on the other thus inhibiting the owner's gardening activities or, while exactly the same quality materials were ordered for one house as for the other, materials were ordered for one nouse as for Lee Other, the may happen that faulty workmanship in the one in-stance detracted from the value of the finished pro-duct in ways not discernible except by close examination. Thus it may be seen that there are many pittalis in any plan of superior the temple temple superior which asks a hot of questions but which a larger grades the work which should be a done be can never replace the work which should be done by the assessor if he is doing his job properly.

THE FEDERAL BUDGET

There isn't much left to say about the federal budget which was presented Monday night by Finance Minister Abbot. However, there is just one thought left which abould not go unexpressed and that is this: "Whatever else the federal budget did or did not do, it didn't fall to show up a number of very bad

The two big bad guesses in connection with the 1949 budget were that it would reduce the excise tax on automobiles and that it would provide for old age on automobiles and that it would provide for on age pensions for all eligible without recourse to the means test. Neither of these predictions materialized, prob-ably because the government recognized them for what they may have been-moves to influence it by employing that great psychological agent, the power of suggestion.

of suggestion.

Generally speaking the budget seems to have eased the load for the small man and placed very few obstacles in the way of big business. There may have been room for improvement but then what budget is ever perfect in all respects. If ever a budget is brought ever perfect in all respects it ever a usage is mought odown by a federal, provincial or even municipal government which outwardly meets the entire approval of the people it probably word the under a democratic one. That's the heauty of our present system correment we can beef all we thin about things and if we beef long crough and get enough people on our side we can probably get it off our chest—that never happens under a dictatorship.

FOR INJURIES RECEIVED AT SCHOOL? WHO SHOULD PAY DOCTOR BILLS AN UNNECESSARY STUMBLING BLOCK

The Ontario Government's margarine bill, introduced in the House this week, seems to be meeting with the approval of the majority of people except for one point . . Practically every person one talks with sees no need for limiting the amount of color to be used in the butter substitute product. They feel that discrimination in this connection is uncalled for, unnecessary and putting the substitute at a decided disadvantage to say nothing of the fact that the people's desire to have a natural looking butter substitute has been entirely ignored.

If margarine is labelled clearly for what it is and proper regulations enforced to ensure that the public is sold a clean, wholesome product, this should be all that is required of the manufacturers. It is not reasonable that the coloring content of the product should be restricted so as to try and make it less palatable in appearance to would-be buyers. Butter has no monopoly on deep shades of yellow coloring material as anyone knows who has eaten much of it.

The butter marketed in Canada varies in color from pale cream to deep yellow but it is far from consis-tent in its coloring content. For this reason it seems unfair for the government to establish a hard and

C.B.C. PROGRAMME REACHES

A NEW LOW

The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation appears to have a low opinion of the mental and cultural standards of the Canadian people. For a number of years a half bour programme of band music has been a gladdening feature of the morning programme on C.B.L. Recently the authorities decided it was time for a change, and substituted a moronic monstrosity which drew from a member of the House of Commons the comment that it was an insult to the intelligence of the people of Canada. It is alleged that the programme has proved popular in the Maritimes, which, if true, is not flattering to their culture. But one might suppose that the Governors of the C.B.C. would might suppose that the Governors of the C.B.C. would have a minimum standard, below which they would not be prepared to descend, even to gratify the taskes of some of their audiences. We fancy the C.B.C. still little does of how large a number of people make very little use of radio except for the news and an occasional special programme. The growing use of records is an indication that people are turning to that medium to find the entertainment they can enjoy, with which the radio falls to provide them.

ON CHANGING MINDS

Australia has now had the 40-hour work week for over a year and more than two thirds of Australians today say that it wasn't too wise a decision on the part of legislators. It was brought in too soon, they claim

Actually, this opinion of the majority in Australia Is account-guessing, because, when the shorter week was introduced, a poll found that 50 per cent of Aussies heartly approved it. Why has the majority changed its mind on the matter in such a short space

Their reasons run along these lines:
First, a man can produce more if he is not worked too long hours, but there comes a point when it is sible to cut hours any more without loss of

Second, loss of production has occurred because of shorter work week and this has been reflected in higher prices

Naturally, the Australians don't want to pay higher prices, but can prevailing opinion force the govern-ment into passing an unpopular law putting the work week back to 44 or 48 hours, even if such a law would benefit the consumer populace generally

A collection or the master in charge, but would prove a hardship to the parents of the injured student. A collection could be taken to help bear the cost but this "smacks of charity." If the board took it on itself to pay this bill each taxpayer's share would only be a few cents and it would not be a hardship to anyone. One migh argue that the parents should insure their own child but owing to the high cost of living many households would find this impossible. We feel that the board should carry insurance to cover all students under conditions existing in school life, or stand ready to meet the expense of any student who is injured. -Stouffville Tribune

A PROMPT ENTRY

A PROMPT ENTRY
The calendar told us that Spring should arrive on March 21st. And that welcome if slightly damp performer took the stage promptly on the calendar call.
A most timely entry, long-heralded by the mild winter. A most there entry, one-renance or the mind without we cannot take the same delight in early spring that early autumn offers, but spring's prospects are more pleasing. Upon muddy March come April showers and mayflowers—the hepaticas. Upon September's golden afternoons come drear November and whiter. Some birds are already back from their southern holiday. Croouses and tulips are sprouting. Sap is running. The promise of tomorrow cheers the slushy muddy today—the early spring about which Lampman has written in his delicate eight-lined Hepaticas

The trees to their innermost man Are touched by the sun;

The robin is here and the sparrow:
Spring is begun!
The sleep and the silence are over:

The petals that rise Are the eyelids of earth that uncover Her numberless eyes.

A TOUCH OF YELLOW

IN PROVINCIAL PARLIAMENTS
The battle to continue the ban on margarine having been lost, the puttering and seared governments of Ontario. British Columbia and other provinces are running for cover—to cover margarine with decontaminating wrappers

The Ontario and British Columbia legislatures have decided that margarine shall have a colour content of 1.5 per cent, yellow. Yellow, it seems, is a holy colour. However, margarine in Ontario 2s now to have a colour-naturue of 1.5 per cent, yellow. It will be the colour of lovry, a pale, cold, marble colour. This margarine will be the trumphant tombactone to the buttle of the ban which the butter-pure people lost.
